

Aurivo is the first large scale milk processor to invest in biomass to provide a long-term energy solution at its Dairy Ingredients site in Ballaghaderreen, Co Roscommon.

At an investment of €5.25 million, the energy facility aims to reduce Aurivo's heavy fuel oil consumption by over 70% and its carbon emissions by 50%.

The energy facility was officially opened by An Taoiseach Enda Kenny in May 2014.

An Taoiseach, Enda Kenny, pictured at a site tour of Aurivo's biomass facility.

Aurivo is the first large scale milk processor to invest in biomass to provide a long-term energy solution at its Dairy Ingredients site in Ballaghaderreen, Co Roscommon.

At an investment of €5.25 million, the energy facility aims to reduce Aurivo's heavy fuel oil consumption by over 70% and its carbon emissions by 50%.

The energy facility was officially opened by An Taoiseach Enda Kenny in May 2014.

An Taoiseach Enda Kenny with Alan Fox, HDS, and Aaron Forde, Aurivo CEO and members of Aurivo's senior dairy team during a tour of the site at the official opening.

Aurivo is the first large scale milk processor to invest in biomass to provide a long-term energy solution at its Dairy Ingredients site in Ballaghaderreen, Co Roscommon.

At an investment of €5.25 million, the energy facility aims to reduce Aurivo's heavy fuel oil consumption by over 70% and its carbon emissions by 50%.

The energy facility was officially opened by An Taoiseach Enda Kenny in May 2014.

Site tour of Aurivo's biomass store, which uses approximately 30,000 tonnes of woodchip per year, displacing heating fuel oil.

Aurivo is the first large scale milk processor to invest in biomass to provide a long-term energy solution at its Dairy Ingredients site in Ballaghaderreen, Co Roscommon.

At an investment of €5.25 million, the energy facility aims to reduce Aurivo's heavy fuel oil consumption by over 70% and its carbon emissions by 50%.

The energy facility was officially opened by An Taoiseach Enda Kenny in May 2014.

Willie Murphy, Aurivo Head of Operations, shows An Taoiseach and delegates around the biomass facility.

Aurivo is the first large scale milk processor to invest in biomass to provide a long-term energy solution at its Dairy Ingredients site in Ballaghaderreen, Co Roscommon.

At an investment of €5.25 million, the energy facility aims to reduce Aurivo's heavy fuel oil consumption by over 70% and its carbon emissions by 50%.

The energy facility was officially opened by An Taoiseach Enda Kenny in May 2014.

Pictured during the installation phase of Aurivo biomass project are Alan Fox HDS; Padraig Gibbons, former Aurivo chairman; Aaron Forde, Aurivo CEO; Eoghan Sweeney, GM Aurivo Dairy Ingredients.